

WORDS 2019

Call for papers

2019 September 9-13

Dear Colleagues,

WORDS is a biannual international conference covering the mathematical theory of words (sequences of symbols) from all points of view: combinatorial, algebraic, algorithmic, as well as its applications to biology, linguistics, physics, and others.

The previous WORDS conferences have taken place in Rouen (1997, 1999), Palermo (2001), Turku (2003, 2013), Montreal (2005, 2017), Marseille (2007), Salerno (2009), Prague (2011), and Kiel (2015).

The 12th International Conference on Words, WORDS 2019 will take place between 9-13th of on September 2019 at Loughborough University, UK.

Co-chairs of this edition are Robert Mercas and Daniel Reidenbach.

As in the previous years there will be two conference proceedings: one in a refereed volume of the Springer-Verlag Lecture Notes in Computer Science (LNCS) Series and a second local proceedings appropriate for papers which have been submitted for publication elsewhere.

===== INVITED SPEAKERS =====

Florin Manea (Kiel)

Svetlana Puzynina (St. Petersburg)

Antonio Restivo (Palermo)

Gwenaél Richomme (Montpellier)

Aleksi Saarela (Turku)

Kristina Vuskovic (Leeds)

===== IMPORTANT DATES =====

Submission deadline: April 12, 2019

Notification to authors: May 20, 2019

Deadline for final versions: June 3, 2019

More information are available on the conference website <http://words2019.lboro.ac.uk/>, where a PDF version of the conference poster can also be downloaded.

Best regards,

Robert and Daniel

Email contact: words2019@lboro.ac.uk